Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 24 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright morning but cloud and rain spread south in afternoon.

Today:
A bright morning with sunny spells and a few, mainly light showers. In the afternoon cloud increases from the north bringing outbreaks of rain south later. Fresh northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain clear away south this evening to leave a mainly dry night with clear spells developing. The northwesterly breeze will be strong at times towards the coast. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
A bright day with some good spells of sunshine around and just the odd shower. Occasionally fresh northwesterly winds slowly easing. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mainly dry Wednesday with sunny spells and light winds. Bright start Thursday but cloudier with a little rain. Cloud and patchy rain Friday clearing to leave a drier, brighter afternoon.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.